SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The International Society for Micropiles (ISM) is hosting its 16th International Workshop on Micropiles 24-26 September 2025 in Valencia, Spain. The theme of the workshop is "The Art and Science of Micropiles."

The workshop provides an opportunity for members to meet, present and exchange data, and share experiences and developments on a relatively informal basis. The workshop includes technical presentations covering states of practice; advancements of micropile construction, materials, research and development; and educational/promotional activities.

Please consider becoming a sponsor for this highly regarded workshop. It's an opportunity to gain exposure for your company, products and services before, during and after the workshop — and demonstrate your leadership in the development, advancement and promotion of micropile technology.
